

The major subject of company's business activities is the delivery and implementation of software and hardware equipment intended for data and systems backup, saving and migration of data in the environment of broad spectrum of platforms, including provision of related service activities. The advantages of the solution supplied by STORYFLEX consist in the deep knowledge of specific problems, excellent sales and technical support by the company and ability of technical staff to respond flexibly to customers' demands.

STORYFLEX closely cooperates with a number of great producers and suppliers from the sphere of IT, especially of storage technologies both abroad and on the domestic market. This way, among others, the company creates the permanent access to news, which is an absolute necessity in such a dynamic sphere of business as information technologies are. Such a step represents a direct connection to development and production, and is one of initial conditions for the company's ability to solve and supply a wide spectrum of the newest products and sophisticated solutions. We keep the high level of quality of provided services that is comparable with the level of foremost providers of services in this narrowly specified sphere of business and comparable with the most advanced countries of the world.

The production team of STORYFLEX constantly expands. We find new colleagues not only between prestigious IT experts but also in a number of students from technically orientated universities. We realize very well that we never could reach such excellent results without a quality team. Therefore STORYFLEX consistently invests to a further education of its employees. You can see the quality knowledge and ability of our professionals during problems analyses, designs and implementations of solutions or customer support.
